

Reflection Task – Week 2

Which Modules did you target since the last reflection?

Number Theory

How much did you complete?

Completed the prac work and self-assessment, almost finished the lesson review

What worked well with your previous study plan? Reflect on

- time-management
Everything is spaced out in a similar fashion to the default plan, however pushed back by about a week this gives a bit more time to complete something if needed.
- self-management

What didn't work as well as planned? Reflect on

- time-management
Everything seems to be working well at the moment.
- self-management
- how did/could you overcome these obstacles?

What risks do you anticipate impacting negatively on your study in the next few weeks?

I struggle with anything other than basic mathematic principals; this could impact my study over the next few weeks; however, I am more concerned about the current health crisis and how the government and public are responding to it.

What strategies can you put in place to mitigate these risks?

For my issues relating to my mathematics struggles I plan on watching as many different instructional videos and online learning tools as possible, there isn't much I can do about the current health crisis, other than follow the advice from the government.

Based on the above reflections,

- What (if anything) did you change in your study plan? Justify
Nothing at the moment
- What will you change in your approach to study? Justify
Nothing at the moment
